Parties

The Tollice club entertained on Christmas night with a delightful Christmas party. The rooms were decorated in Christmas colors and a large Christmas tree stood in the living room. This held presents for all members and their wives and caused a great deal of amusement as each present distributed was characteristic in some little particular of the recipient. H. F. Burges acted as Santa Claus. Refreshments were served after the fun with the tree and dancing was enjoyed. Practically all of the members, with their wives and sweethearts, enjoyed the jolly party.

The next affair to be given by the Tollice club will be on New Year's night.

The Eusebian entertained with a social Monday evening at Kendrick hall. Roy and Mrs. Henry Easter were the chaperons.

Those present were: Misses Alma Morrison, Rachel Maetz, Elizabeth Field, Louise McKinnis, Mary Richmond, Charles Carter, Mary White, Maurine Carter, Eunice Anderson, Georgia Stewart, Irene Crane, Albert Martin, Anita Maetz, Messrs. Bill Watkins, Edwin Rutledge, Frank Lucas, John Fessett, Le Roy Pickens, William Race, R. C. Carter, Harry Page, Elgie Smith, C. E. Boren, Claudius Smith, Henry Freeman, Russell Mitchell, Julius Herman, Lucas Bacon.

Hot chocolate with whipped cream and vanilla wafers were served.

Dr. W. L. Brown entertained on Christmas morning with a delightful Christmas egg party. Dr. Brown's party was a stag party and enjoyed by a large number of his friends.

The Effie Eddington school held its Christmas cantata. "The Shepherds' Story" on Friday night at the school. The story was in Spanish and the songs were sung in English.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Turney will entertain on New Year's night with open house for their friends.

Lodges and Clubs

The Elks entertained on Christmas with "open house" for their friends. The club house was attractively decorated for the occasion in Christmas colors and evergreen, the shrub being used as a decoration for the table. In the ball room a large Christmas tree was beautifully decorated with small electric globes and the tree is about to be sign it so far. The abolishing of the reserve will mean a great saving to the stock owner who pays large estate fees, and poor men can then make homestead settlement on many thousands of good land also. Mr. Longwell will personally present his petition in Washington as soon as canvass of the county is finished.

A heavy snow storm has been raging in this district. The snow is about two feet deep. On account of the snow stockmen are having to feed heavily, and anything in the shape of hay brings good prices.

WANT WEED FOREST RESERVE ABOLISHED

Weed, N. M., Dec. 25.—Ben Longwell is canvassing Otero county in the interest of abolishing this forest reserve. He has many signers to his petition. Only 15 resident citizens have refused to sign it so far. The abolishing of the reserve will mean a great saving to the stock owner who pays large estate fees, and poor men can then make homestead settlement on many thousands of good land also. Mr. Longwell will personally present his petition in Washington as soon as canvass of the county is finished.

Did You Get a Camera For Christmas?

We want everyone in El Paso who has a camera to know that we develop films and make prints. As we use Cyko paper for making prints, we always get the best results from any negative. We also take this occasion to remind you that we are headquarters for Ansco cameras, and at all times carry a full line of Ansco cameras and Ansco and Cyko chemicals and supplies.

American Friends Appeal to Sec. Bryan To Aid Girl Held As A Spy By Italy

MISS DOROTHEA MACVANE.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 25.—Influential friends of professor Shas Marcus MacVane, former professor of Ancient and Modern history at Harvard, have appealed to the state department to take steps to aid his daughter, Miss Dorothea MacVane, who was made a prisoner by the Italian authorities at Toronto, suspected of being a French spy. Professor MacVane, who is seriously ill in Rome, has suffered a relapse due to the shock of the news of his daughter's experience. Miss MacVane has won notable success as an operatic singer in the cities of southern Europe. The family has been living in Italy for several years and American friends cannot understand how Miss MacVane came under suspicion.
